

Morning Meditations

A resource for Perimeter Young Families to pray the Scriptures together each morning, for our hurting world, Spring 2020.

SATURDAY

In these days when all the world may be in fear, anger, or panic, may we be found doing what makes no earthly sense, praising and worshipping You, our God!

And may we be found praising and worshipping You, God even with the faith of Shadrach, Meschech, and Abednego who said in the face of death, “Our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of your hand, O king. But if not, be it known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods or worship the golden image that you have set up.”

May our hearts worship You not because of a “pie in the sky”, groundless hope, but because of the truth in your word: “Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?”

For I am sure that neither death nor life, nor angels nor rulers, nor things present nor things to come, nor powers, nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Lord, use our lives to show this hope in Your love, Your work, and Your power, and worship of Your matchless name to the world!

Amen and amen!

Parents, feel free to read these prayers to your children, and ask them to agree with you in prayer. You can also use them as a liturgy in “call and response.” Read the regular print, then ask them to repeat the bolded print after you (or if your kids can all read, just print it out and tell them to read the bold print together)!

Liturgy has been a practice of the church over centuries. It allows us to engage with God corporately with words which are saturated in Biblical thinking and feeling. It is not meant to limit our prayers, but to guide them and then seed them for deeper expression in our personal and private prayer life.
